Friday 27-03-09 at about 4:10pm in Walthamstow London, Driving home from work I had a sighting. At first I thought I saw three white birds circling in the sky. I soon realised that these were not birds as they were too far away and too large. As they circled they were dipping in and out of the clouds. These objects were too fast to be aeroplanes and continued circling. They could have been a light source or they could have been reflecting light. Cannot remember exact shape as all happened so quickly. Possible small tail of light underneath each one at a slight angle away from the direction of the objects travel.

My sighting was breathless as I turned a corner and drove through a built up area hoping to catch a glimpse later on my journey but this was not to be. I should have stopped the car to get a better look.

Any idea what I might have seen?

Have you received any other reports that might tie in with this sighting in terms of time or location.

Hope to hear from you
